What Are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are placed on your device when you visit our website. They help us provide you with a better browsing experience by remembering your preferences and analyzing how you use our site.

How We Use Cookies

We may use cookies for the following purposes:

Essential Cookies

These cookies are necessary for our website to function properly and cannot be disabled. They enable basic functions like page navigation, access to secure areas, and form submissions.

Performance Cookies

These cookies help us understand how visitors interact with our website by collecting anonymous information about pages visited, time spent on the site, and any error messages encountered.

Functionality Cookies

These cookies remember your preferences and choices (such as language, region, or login details) to provide you with a more personalized experience.

Managing Your Cookie Preferences

You can control and manage cookies in several ways:

Browser Settings

Most browsers allow you to:

- View and delete cookies
- Block cookies from specific sites
- Block third-party cookies
- Clear all cookies when you close your browser

Impact of Disabling Cookies

If you choose to disable cookies, some features of our website may not function properly:

- You may need to log in repeatedly
- Your preferences won't be saved
- Some pages may load slower
- Personalized content won't be available

Updates to This Notice

We may update this cookie notice from time to time to reflect changes in our practices or applicable laws. The updated notice will be posted on this page with a revised "Last Updated" date.
